

Tank Spring Nature Preserve

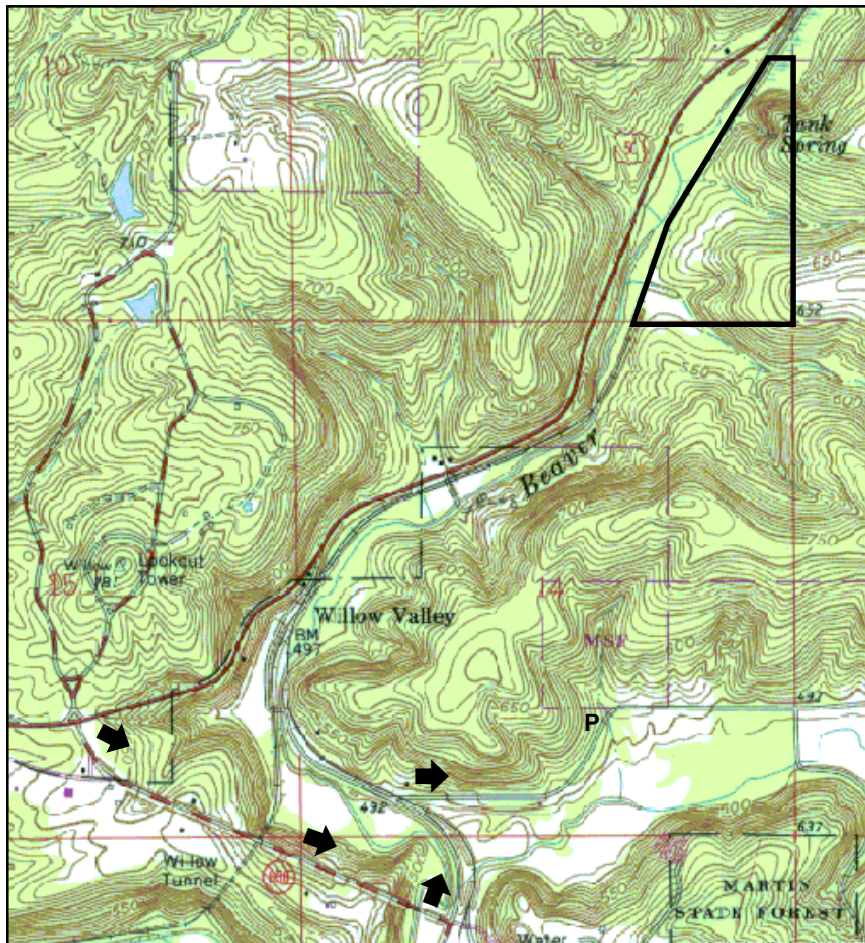

County: Martin Size: 60 acres

Ownership: Division of Forestry - IDNR

Location and Access

Parking lot and trail (moderately rugged). From US 50, 4.0 mi east of Shoals, take SR 650 (directly opposite the entrance to Martin State Forest). SR 650 ends in less than a mile; turn left (north) at the 'T' onto CR 67. In about 0.3 mi take the sharp right turn (east) onto CR 54. After about 0.5 mi look for the parking area for the Tank Spring trail on the left (north side of the road). Tank Spring Trail is a moderately rugged 3 mi loop.

Description:

Originally called Green Spring, Tank Spring was once used to supply steam-powered locomotives on the adjacent railroad. Water was piped to a tank near the former hamlet of Willow Valley.

Tank Spring is a permanent fresh water spring issuing from a layer of limestone at the base of a picturesque sandstone cliff alcove, situated in a mesic upland forest community. Sugar maple, American beech, red oak, and basswood are some of the trees found here.

A similar but smaller spring alcove is located on the adjacent bluff 0.25 mi south of Tank Spring.

Further Information:

Martin State Forest Office, PO Box 599, Shoals, IN 47581, (812) 247-3491.

www.in.gov/dnr/forestry/stateforests/martin.htm

Division of Nature Preserves, 402 W Washington St, Rm W267, Indianapolis IN 46204-2739.

317-232-0209. www.in.gov/dnr/naturepr